Dedication

To a man whose pride in Chester High School wins our respect and admiration; to a man who generously furnishes supplies and equipment for our needs; to a man who will tell you Chester is the best school in Indiana; to Walter R. Metzger, Trustee of Chester Township, we dedicate our 1942 Ravelings.

SCHOOL SONG

"Cheer, cheer for Chester High School!
Cheer for the honor marking her school!
Hail the colors blue and white;
Sing out the valor of her might!
What though the odds be great or small,
Dear Chester High School will conquer all,
While her loyal sons are fighting
Onward to Victory!"

Meet Our Teachers

The American's Creed

"I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

Class History

Four years ago the graduating class first appeared on the stage of C. H. S. The leaders were: President, Jay Taylor; Vice-President, Paul Sell; Secretary, Bob Kreider. The directors who guided them through this, their first and most difficult year, were Mr. Huffman and Miss Shull. To lighten their duties through the year they had one party in the gym.

New leaders were chosen for the second year. They were: President, Bob Kreider; Vice-President, Rex Merritt; Secretary, Deloris Kester; Treasurer, Joann Frantz. The advisors were Mrs. Fribley and Mr. Searer.

The third year they were raised to the position of understudies with Miss Zimpelmann, Miss Leffel, and Mr. Shanahan. In the fall "Lena Rivers," a delightful comedy and a big success was presented by this class. The cast were well chosen and well adapted to their roles. The officers for this year were: President, Ross Briner; Vice-President, Mary Louise Schroll; Treasurer, Deloris Kester; Secretary, Rex Merritt. A bingo party was enjoyed by all for the class party this year.

During the past year, now that the class of '42 has reached the status of stars, they have been under the leadership of: President, Wayne Miller; Vice-President, Ross Briner; Secretary, Avonne Lee Reed; Treasurer, Mary Louise Schroll. This year the class started a new project of selling hot lunches, which was a success.

In March a trip through southern Indiana and into Kentucky was enjoyed by the class. On April 29 this group of talented stars retire from the stage of C. H. S. to go on to face the higher stage of the world. The gift which the class of '42 leaves to the school is symbolic of its best wishes. The flag of the United States and the Christian flag express hope for the preservation of all our civil and religious liberties.

Class Will of '42

PREAMBLE

We, the Senior Class of Chester High School, in order to form more perfect classes in the future, give advice, and bestow upon the future classes the things that have made us outstanding as Seniors, do ordain the following will. Since our school days are near an end, we request that our desires be conscientiously fulfilled.

ARTICLE I

To our beloved faculty, we will our everlasting knowledge, which we do not want, and our alertness on any question, which we do not care to take with us. To the juniors, we leave our road maps and travel folders left over from our trip to Kentucky. (Money, too, if there is any.) To the sophomores, we will our hope that they will some day be as talented a class as the one departing. To our dear little freshmen we leave our ability at least to look intelligent when the occasion demands.

ARTICLE II

I, Norma Bechtold, will my sweet voice to Maxine Hoover. I, Mary Bowen, will my extra inches in height to Carl Peden. I, Ross Briner, will my ability to play basketball to Charles Schnepf. I, Floyd Burnett, will my loud laugh to Charlene Auker, to complement her giggle. I, Wilma Clark, will my ability to be seen and not heard to Lois Ann Walters. I, Gladys Cripe, will my black hair to Josephine Howard. We, Betty and Reva Drudge, will part of our height to Frank Johnson. I, Joan Frantz, will my position as drum majorette to Harriet Christman. I, Velma Frantz, will my book on "How to Hold a Man" to Peggy Judy. I, Dick Freeman, will my "he-man" figure to Eugene Shaffer. We, Dorcas Frederick and Deloris Kester, will our positions as office girls to anyone who can do as good a job as we have. I, Paul Frey, will my knowledge of being a good farmer to Lewis Johnson. I, Max Garrison, leave my seat in the assembly where I read "Western Stories" to Allan Shultz. I, Jim Gidley, will my blonde hair to Dean Grossnickle. I, Elizabeth Gradeless, will my jolly disposition to Coleen Heeter. I, Eunice Hanley, will my spare time at intermissions to Isaac Studebaker. I, Mabel Hippensteel, will my attraction to South Whitley to LoVonne Colbert, who is attracted to Wabash. I, Bob Kreider, will my well-groomed appearance to Delbert Young. I, Eileen Lambert, will my technique on skates to Richard Michael. I, Bill Lee, will my appendix to any one who cares to have it. I, Donald Lenwell, will two all-day suckers and a bag of peanuts to Mary Ellen Mow. I, Marietta Metzger, will my ability to make speeches to Betty Lou Nichols. I, Rex Merritt, will my loud voice to Dean Biehl for future yelling at ball games. I, Donald Miller, leave my dimples to Bruce Partridge. I, Wayne Miller, will my speed in track to Merle Frieden for more speed in basketball in the year '42-'43. I, Jean Orr, will the weight I lost last summer to Mary Margaret Brandenburg. I, Avonne Reed, will my yell-leading position to my sister, Marceleen. I, Roberta Reed, will my little features to Dora Deckena. I, Leanna Rhoades, will my ability to keep a steady boy friend to Rose Marie Dillman. I, Kenton Royer will my technique in getting a preacher's daughter to anyone who thinks he can. I, Betty Scheerer, will my place in the front row of Glee Club to Hilda Humke. I, Audra Schilling, will my girlish ways to Opal Pence. I, Mary Louise Schroll, will my ability to get a way to the ball games to Joann Knapp. I, Paul Sell, will my naturally curly hair to Jackie Grindle so he won't need to wave his. I, Verlon Sites, will my quiet manners to Gene Felabom. I, Edith Smith, will my dark hair and eyes to Donnabelle Brandenburg. I, Verl Steller, will my position as Mayor of Servia to Dick Heeter as Mayor of Liberty Mills. I, Jay Taylor, will my ever-enlarging vocabulary to Leroy Ulshafer. I, Virginia Ulrey, will my perfect coiffure to Violet Walgamuth. I, Arden Urschel, will my ability to laugh last to Max Lefforge. I, Eldon Wine, will my back seats in classes to Arthur Airgood. This being the extent of our last will and testament, we, the Class of '42, hereby affix our hand and the seal of this year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Two.

(Chester Seal)

AUDRA SCHILLING

SENIOR PROPHECY

The clippings are from the files of Paul Sell, editor of the Wabash County Buzz, and have been compiled by his star reporters, Audra Schilling and Verlon Sites. They are from various papers throughout the country during the year 1976.

NEW YORK

Arden Urschel, star window-washer on the Empire State Building, suffered unknown injuries, received when he fell from the twenty-sixth floor of that building. According to the only witness, Jim Gidley, captain of the bellhops at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria, it was the worst accident he had ever seen.

A business merger, reported to be the biggest food transaction since man began to eat, was announced today. Dick Freeman, the well-known vegetable baron, has now taken over the Faurot Grocery Company, which from now on will be known as the Freeman-Faurot Grocery Company.

For his first appointment in the new firm, Mr. Freeman has named Mr. and Mrs. William Lee co-managers of the North Manchester branch. Mrs. Lee was the former Virginia Ulrey.

The latest appointment announced by President Wayne Miller from the White House is the Honorable Jay Taylor as ambassador to England. This is no surprise in the light of Taylor's brilliant diplomatic career. He also recently appointed Nurse Joann Frantz head of the Red Cross Nursing School in the Hawaiian Islands, with Betty Scheerer her first assistant. Dorcas Frederick and Mabel Hippensteel were also recently named private secretaries to the President.

Governor Paul Frey, the Hoosier State Governor, presented in person, before a capacity crowd of enthusiastic spectators at Madison Square Garden, the world's heavy-weight championship title to Rex Merritt, who had long struggled to win it.

Opening on Broadway tonight is the world-famed Shakespearean actress, Norma Bechtold as Juliet in the play of "Romeo and Juliet," supported by Donald Miller as Romeo.

RADIO HIGHLIGHTS OF THE DAY

Don Lenwell has started the serial dramatization of his adventures in the wilds of Africa over Station P. D. Q. This serial is heard daily at 6:15 P. M. Pickle Junction Time.

Reva and Betty Drudge, the "Two Little Girls in Blue," are the latest additions to the Melody Maniacs. Their names are quite the "stuff" in radio.

SOCIETY NEWS FROM BABS CENTER, NEW MEXICO

Madame Mary Louise Schroll, Secretary of Labor in the President's Cabinet, has arrived from Washington, D. C., to spend a short vacation with her husband, Ross Briner, who will accompany her to Washington, where she has found him suitable employment.

Max Garrison is spending a few days in Waco, Texas, buying cattle for his ranch.

THE ROSEDALE (ARKANSAS) WEEKLY

A very strange situation has arisen at the County Infirmary. Miss Jean Orr, superintendent, and Miss Mary Bowman, matron, have announced that they have no inmates at all. This county should be proud of its prosperity.

Kenton Royer, president of the local bank, announces that a million dollar bond issue will be placed before the public to finance the construction of a goldfish pool in the park.

Elizabeth Gradeless, long noted for her interest in noble causes, has turned her talents to the organization of a new club, which, it is feared, is the outgrowth of a strange mania long present in her family. The club has as its avowed purpose the extermination of all Democrats.

Mrs. Paul Frey (Velma Frantz,) president of the P. T. A., has announced as her theme "Progress With Us." Mrs. Frey, with the aid of her husband's legal training, should make a brilliant president. Mrs. Eldon Knecht (Avonne Lee Reed), the secretary, is mailing requests for donations of food and services for the school lunch in behalf of Miss Edith Smith, lunch supervisor. Any contributions to this cause should be made at the Town Hall to Clerk Verl Steller before Monday.

A group of national celebrities were present at the reunion meeting of the Jack Benny Literary Circle at the home of Miss Gladys Cripe, local portrait painter. She was proud to present the following program. Deloris Kester, a vocal solo; Eileen Lambert, a demonstration of roller skating; Eunice Hanley, a criticism of current drama; and Marietta Metzger, trends in modern poetry. Each of the guests, an authority in her chosen field, made a brilliant contribution to the program.

CHESTER HIGH SCHOOL NEWS (1976)

Bob Kreider, Coach of Chester High School, is starting practice for the current season. An excellent year is predicted.

Band

No organization in school has shown more progress than the high school band. Two public concerts were given. The band entered the Manchester College Band Festival and was judged by Mr. Wiegel, of Ohio State University. In the district solo contests placings were as follows: Division I, Joe Ebbinghouse, baritone; Jean Orr, sousaphone; Kenneth Miller, saxophone; Phillip Werking, trombone. Division II, Maxine Hoover, clarinet; Joe Piper, cornet; Allan Shultz, cornet; Mary Ellen Mow, clarinet and piano. In the state contest Kenneth Miller and Phillip Werking won Division III; Jean Orr and Joe Ebbinghouse, Division I.

The beginners band is composed of eighteen junior high school students, most of whom have begun lessons only this year. Miss Walther is director; and Mary Ellen Mow, accompanist.

Staff

The staff of the 1942 Ravelings was elected early last fall by the senior class. The problem facing the staff was to create a different kind of book and stay within a limited budget. Students responded to an increase of ten cents in the price of the book and subscribed nearly 100%. Marietta Metzger, in charge of advertising, conducted some clever sales stunts. Billy Runkel won a contest guessing the number of beans in a jar and was awarded a free book. The staff wishes to express gratitude to Mr. Gerald Miller, who gave much of his valuable time to taking and retaking pictures.

Librarians

Miss Zimpelmann chooses reliable students from the three upper grades to be librarians. They keep the shelves arranged neatly and check out library books and magazines for the students. They also try to help the students in using the reference books. Another one of their duties is to supply the steady stream of seniors with government books.

Row Monitors

Each morning and noon we saw twelve students rise from their seats in the back of the study hall and scan the row for missing students. In the fall when study hall seats were assigned, these twelve students were made responsible for checking daily attendance. Other duties of the monitors were to pass out typed notices from the office, report cards, and song sheets used in the Wednesday morning chapel exercises.

Office Assistants

During the year six students have been employed in high school by the support of NYA. Verl Steller is general patrol boy at all evening school programs. Allan Shultz and Edith Smith have charge of the sale of defense stamps. Dorcas Frederick and Deloris Kester are office assistants who have done most of the school typing and mimeographing. Jean Kissinger is an office assistant who sells supplies, answers the telephone and takes messages.

Debate

This year our debaters went to Linlawn to debate in the tournament sponsored by the Wabash County Speech Association. The question was: Resolved, that by state law, Indiana students be required to attend school until eighteen years of age unless graduated from an accredited high school before that time. After debating against Linlawn, Laketon, and Somerset, we found that we had won nine out of twelve debates which gave us the Wabash County debate championship. This year's squad came out of the speech class, with the exception of Marietta Metzger. We had no varsity team, although in the tournament we were classed in A and B groups. The affirmative B team, composed of Bill Lee and Jim Gidley, won all their debates; while the other teams, consisting of Mary Louise Schroll and Avonne Lee Reed, Don Lenwell and Wayne Miller, and Velma Frantz and Marietta Metzger won two out of three. Five of this year's squad had had a little experience, although none had ever debated on a varsity team.

"June Mad"

For their play, the seniors chose "June Mad," adapted from the book, "This Awful Age," and produced in the movies as "Her First Date." The story concerns the growing pains of Penny Wood and Chuck Harris. Penny's ambition is to become a writer, until her Uncle Mervyn Roberts brings a college chum, Roger Van Vleck, home for vacation. Penny falls for Roger's flattery and immediately tries to become a sophisticated woman of the world. Chuck wants to build gliders, but his father objects to such a dangerous hobby. After frightening his family and neighbors, Chuck proves his glider really will stay up and gains his father's support in helping build gliders. Aided by her sympathetic mother Penny learns that her friends accept her only as her natural self. Comedy is provided by the blundering domestics, Effie and Elmer. Dr. Wood, Penny's father, can not find enough quiet around the house to write his paper for the medical association. Mervyn has difficulty in keeping Julie Harris immune to Roger's love-making, but Chuck's escapade brings them together. Milly Lou, the neighborhood pest, has the knack of saying and doing the wrong thing at all times.

"The Eyes of Tlaloc"

On March 27, the junior class presented "The Eyes of Tlaloc," a mystery comedy in three acts. The play is centered around the mysteries of the Aztec race and the ancient god, Tlaloc. The owner of the Rancho, John Wayne, has gone on a strange journey. When a man comes to the Wayne Ranch, whom they take for Professor Hallett but in reality is John Wayne's cousin, trouble really begins. Not until the professor has discovered the secret panel revealing the god, Tlaloc, and also releasing a trap door through which he falls unhurt into an underground cavern, is the mystery cleared. This is done mostly by Tommy Tinker, the real professor, who goes by the name of a prize fighter after he learns that the professor has stolen his name. Tommy falls in love with Nancy Howe, John Wayne's niece, after Mr. Wayne and Nancy, who also disappear, have safely returned, and John Wayne has told the story of his cousin's attempt to kill him.

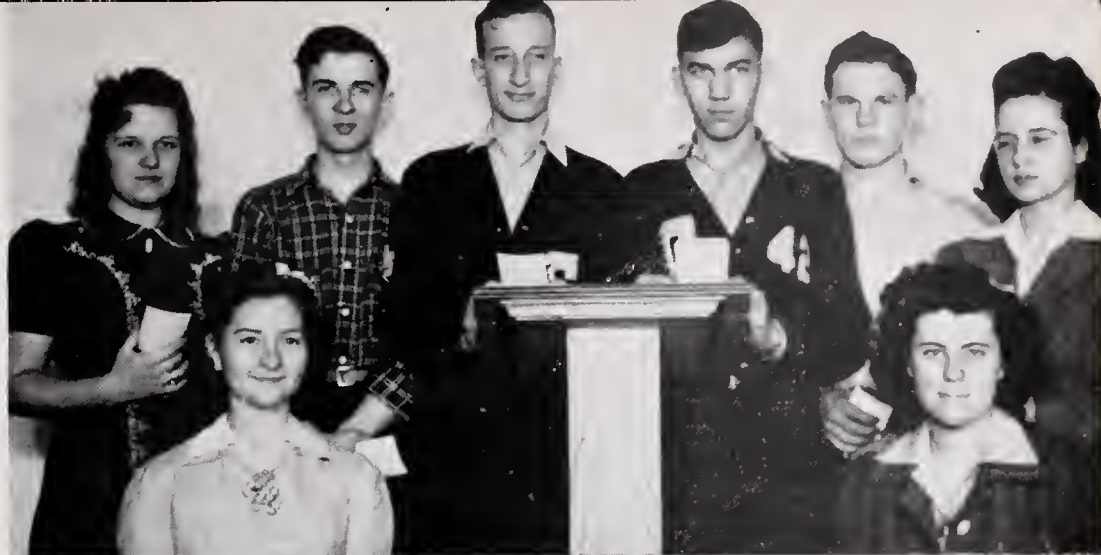

One-Act Play

As host to the one-act play festival of the Wabash County Speech Association, members of the dramatics class equipped the stage for seven county schools. Chester presented "The Tarnished Witherspoons" on Tuesday evening and repeated the performance at the Manchester College Alumni dinner.

The Witherspoons live in a small Middle Western town. Mr. and Mrs. Witherspoon are a dignified couple who like to put on all the airs while their son and daughter are just the opposite. The children enjoy having a good time and delight in listening to Grandpa tell his "tall" tales. The play is centered around a scrap book owned by Grandma and Grandpa which holds a false story about the wedding of the grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Witherspoon get the wrong impression of the story and begin to see all the bad things that are going to happen to them, but the children consent to do as their mother and father ask them to, if the story is not released. Everything is settled to everybody's satisfaction.

Mr. Miller: "What's an operetta?"

Pupil: "Don't be foolish. It's a girl who works for the telephone company."

A college student had failed to pass a very important examination and wishing to break the news gently to his parents he sent this telegram to his elder brother: "Have failed to pass exam. Prepare father."

The brother replied: "Father prepared. Prepare yourself."

Judge: "Do you challenge any of the jury?"

Defendant: "Well, I think I can lick that little guy on the end."

Barber: "You want your hair parted exactly in the middle, sir?"

Mr. Moore: "That's what I said, didn't I?"

Barber: "Then I'll have to pull one out, sir. You have five hairs."

Ruth rode in my cycle car
In a seat in back of me
I took a bump at fifty,
And rode on Ruthlessly.

"Now if I drop a silver coin in this bubbling acid," said Miss Leffel, "will it dissolve?"

"No," replied a bright student.

"No? Then perhaps you will explain why not."

"Frankly, if it would dissolve you wouldn't put it in."
